CANADA AND THE SOUTH.

The Star recently called attention to the fact that thousands of men and their families are leaving the northern and northwestern States and are settling in the new provinces of Canada. We suggested some organized or systematic movement in North Carolina to induce the immigrants to come to this State where the field is wide and the opportunities are great. The advantage which we would have in settlers of this kind is that we would bring into our midst a homogeneous class of our own people noted for their energy and enterprise, while they would find here numerous inducements in the way of an equitable climate, rich lands and other advantages not necessary to mention here. The Washington Post recently contained a strong editorial pointing out the inducements which the South holds out for people who are seeking new homes, and urged the Northerners and Westerners to come South instead of going to Canada. The New York Commercial joins the Post, and that able paper on the 18th instant contained this editorial on this timely subject:

"While some of the Western States that up to a period comparatively recent were laboring constantly and zealously for securing immigrants are now confronting an exodus of their own people into Canada and particularly to the Canadian Northwest, none of these outgoers appears to have sensed the fact that, if emigration was desirable at all, the great South presents advantages that really ought to put Canada out of the competition altogether. Myriads of Western folk are crossing 'over the line' into the great wheat lands and other agricultural regions of the Dominion without a thought, apparently, that the area to the east and south of them is vastly more attractive for agricultural settlement and development than that in the cold latitudes of the British possessions. A 'campaign of education' on the South is badly needed 'out West,' and especially in Iowa and one or two other States where some of the inhabitants seem to have gone Canada-crazy.

"If they don't know, they ought to know that in 1908 the cotton States of the South, nine of them in all, raised 561,103,000 bushels of corn as against only 402,625,000 bushels grown by the eight northern States of Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, the Dakotas and Colorado and the Territory of New Mexico. In this computation Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri are not included, although all three of them are very important grain producing States, nor are Maryland and the two Virginias. If it is for corn growing that these Westerners are seeking new fields of settlement, why shouldn't they go South instead of North? That some 'new blood' is going into corn culture down in Dixie is demonstrated by the fact that while the cotton acreage of the South is less this year by at least 3.5 per cent. than it was in 1908, the land devoted to corn raising down there exceeds that of 1908 by fully one million acres.

"This latter fact is regarded by the Washington Post as a good sign. When the South grows its own grain and produces its own meat, it says, 'it will have become the most prosperous agricultural community on earth.' And our contemporary then unfolds this other advantage attaching to that region:

"When the South devotes attention to grain growing it will necessarily lead to better farming. There will follow conservation of the soil through crop rotation, and peas and alfalfa will enter largely into the farm economy. This will necessarily bring about cattle and hog breeding and feeding, and ultimately the dairy, the cheese factory, sheep husbandry and poultry farming. Already truck gardening and fruit growing are prosperous industries at the South, where numerous successful canning establishments are located. Cotton will some day be the surplus crop and be grown on land that will produce two bales an acre. With intelligent crop rotation and careful seed selection, it will be an easy matter to raise 15,000,000 bales with less labor on half the acreage planted last year that produced some 13,000,000 bales."

"The new home seeking Westerners will probably not be much attracted to cotton growing—for present day skill in that line is to a great extent an inheritance from many generations of successful planters. But as soon as the South begins her inevitable cotton crop expansion to meet the demands of an increasing home and foreign population and begins also an expansion of her cotton manufacturing, so as not to longer ship the raw staple abroad and then buy it back again in the form of fabrics, in that day must begin a general agricultural expansion down there of mighty proportions. The negro must stay to cultivate and handle the cotton, but the North and the East and the West will just as surely send their hordes of home seekers southward as Europe is now sending hers here and the West is sending hers in to a region whose climate and agricultural possibilities are incomparably inferior to those of the Southland."

It is gratifying that our great American papers take positions like those of the Post and the Commercial, and as there is an actual movement of a desirable class of Westerners and Northerners into Canada, it is a strong suggestion to our North Carolina authorities to take some steps to advertise the advantages of North Carolina and make every effort to turn the tide this way. The right sort of advertising matter distributed liberally in the States from which there is an outflow of people would no doubt have a good effect, and the opportunity is also afforded to our railroads to do some missionary work of a practical nature to induce people to come South and settle along their lines. There are emigration rates from the Eastern and Southern States to the West. Why can't we have immigration rates to North Carolina and other Southern States from those Northern and Western States where there is unrest among the population?

If the Democratic party has any new issues to spring in the next Presidential campaign they ought to be launched and discussed now and not be sprung in a campaign when the political educational term is so short that it is impossible to get the people educated up to the new and perhaps fatal idea.

The New York papers note that several distinguished Americans have returned from Europe. They're probably too late, as President Taft has no doubt promised all the good appointments to men who stay at home and attend to their business.

The midget State of Rhode Island no doubt feels its overpowering importance when it contemplates that its Senator Aldrich has the majority of all the Senators under his thumb. Rhode Island is little but loud.

Atlanta Journal: "Somebody sees 'petty politics' in Aldrich's scheme. We fail to see anything petty in Aldrich's politics." Anyhow, Aldrich has made us petulant over his scheme.

It is said that Wilmington has a fanabelle who makes a home run when she strikes a fellow who can't talk the new baseball language.

Come to Eastern North Carolina and get your full share of prosperity, contentment and happiness.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Some of the speeches that have been made in favor of the lumber tax have the odor of pine forests.—Wm. J. Bryan's Commoner.

—It would be pretty tough now that the Nanticoke and the Dispatch are gone, if some coastwise steamer should see the bearded face of Cip Castro peering over the gunwales of one of the two ships bound for Venezuela.—Columbia State.

—June brides are pretty plentiful this year. We understand that there are to be 16 marriages in Dunn this month and 13 in Monroe. There were three marriages in Dunn last Tuesday and three other couples wanted to get married that day there but postponed on account of the fact that all the preachers and churches in town had already been engaged. It's marrying time.—Lumberton Robesonian.

—Concerning The Observer's suggestion that Wilmington, Greensboro, Winston-Salem and perhaps one or two others get up a race for second place among North Carolina cities. The Wilmington Star objects that Charlotte "might be ruled out of the contest for first city on the ground that The Charleston News and Courier is ready to offer evidence that Charlotte is a South Carolina city." Which objection has much validity. We do not consider The Charleston News and Courier one bit above doing this very thing.—Charlotte Observer.

—"It is rather musical," says the Charlotte Evening Chronicle, "for a State association of any sort to go to another State to hold its meeting; yet the South Carolina bankers have been holding their annual meeting at Wrightsville Beach. 'We are a little bit curious to see what the Charleston News and Courier is going to say to the South Carolina bankers for going to North Carolina to hold their Convention.' We do not intend to say anything. They are free agents. They had a good time, we are told. They would probably have come to Charleston this year if proper provision had been made for their entertainment.—Charleston News and Courier.

SOME UNEXPECTED BENEFITS

More Voluntary Concessions to Thousands of Policy-holders by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—Great Gains.

A remarkable spirit of liberality toward its policy-holders is again the striking feature of the periodical statement or report of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, a summary of which is published today.

The attitude of this great financial organization toward the millions of individuals who have relations with it invites comment, and affords some grounds for interesting comparisons. Broadly speaking, the inducements offered by responsible life insurance companies to insurable persons are of two kinds. One consists in a proposition to carry a definite amount of "straight" insurance at low cost; the other offers innumerable plans by which in return for excessive premium payments the person insured is to "participate" in the earnings of the company, receiving benefits that are not definitely stated in the policy itself. The first plan appeals to the man of judgment as a clear-cut business contract under which all obligations are mutually understood. The other appeals to the speculative instinct, and demands a higher degree of confidence in the insuring company, which carefully avoids an absolute guarantee of benefits proportioned to the high rates demanded.

The Metropolitan Life sells "straight" insurance only; that is, it promises to pay at death, or at the expiration of your policy, a fixed sum plainly written in the contract. As a matter of course, it must sell this insurance at a cost low enough to secure business in competition with all the big insurance companies. Having issued such a policy, the company has no further obligations under its terms until the specified benefits are due and payable. The person insured is satisfied with his contract and expects only that it will be exactly carried out. So far as is known, any great financial or mercantile organization would consider such a contract final.

But at this point the Metropolitan Life chooses to temper hard-and-fast business methods by injecting a little "soul" into its after relations with the man who holds its policy.

It must be kept in mind that the actual cost of insuring a life can never by any human foresight be calculated in advance with absolute exactness. The death rate in a given population varies from year to year; the earnings of invested funds are bound to be greater or less through periods of prosperity and depression; the cost of operating the Company's business will each year bear a different proportion to the number and value of policies in force. Insurance must be sold at a price based upon its probable future cost under these varying conditions, and the safety of the company, upon which all its policy-holders depend for protection, must be assured by estimating the cost as high as past experience has proven necessary.

The business of the Metropolitan Life has increased tremendously year by year, while its operating expenses, proportioned to the vast amount of insurance carried, grow steadily less. Ordinarily the resulting gains would be considered a legitimate reward of enterprise under capable management in which the policy-holders have no interest; but this particular insurance company chooses to share its prosperity with them by paying bonuses and increasing benefits.

The report just issued makes a remarkable showing: The Company in ten years has reduced the ratio of expense to premium income on its business in all departments 15 per cent. In the Industrial Department alone the reduction accomplished in the past five years amounts to 8 per cent.—this last item representing a total of three and a half million dollars.

These great gains are being used to increase the benefits 10 per cent. on all policies in force since January 1, 1907. As to policies dated previous to January 1, 1907, a bonus of 8 per cent. of the premiums given for a year on all policies over five years old, and increased benefits are allowed on policies of long standing which become death claims.

To sum up these benefits—not promised to policy-holders nor expected by them—it is shown that during the past sixteen years the concessions and bonuses in the Industrial Department alone are equivalent to a gift outright of eighteen millions of dollars.

THE MIRAGE.

Conditions That Make Possible This Beautiful Illusion.

About that natural phenomenon, the mirage, much mystery clung in days of old, but science explains it as readily as the rainbow.

The fata morgana of the strait of Messina and the specter of the Brocken were nothing more in sober reality than mere mirage.

A mirage may occur at any place where the denser stratum of air is placed above the lighter stratum, thus refracting the rays of light, the common surface of the two strata acting as a mirror.

In looming mirages distant objects show an extravagant increase in vertical height without alteration in breadth. Distant hummocks of ice are thus magnified into immense towers and pinnacles, and a ship is sometimes abnormally drawn out until it appears twelve or thirteen times as high as it is long. Rocks are seen drawn up to ten or twelve times their proper height. Houses as well as human beings and animals appear in like exaggerated shape.

Another form of mirage is when a ship or some other object near the water seems greatly elongated and a second inverted image meets it from above.

Sometimes the proper image of the object is elevated far above the sea, while the second image strangely appears inverted beneath it, the whole surrounded by a sheet of sky which is mirrored and repeated within it.

In 1882 in the arctic region Captain Scoresby recognized by its inverted image in the air his father's ship, the Fame, which afterward proved to be seventeen miles beyond the visible horizon of his observation.

One August evening in 1806 Dr. Vince saw from Ramsgate, at which place only the tops of Dover castle towers are usually visible, the whole of the castle. It appeared as though lifted up and bodily placed on the near side of the intervening hill. So perfect was this illusion that the hill itself actually could not be seen through the figure.

Some forms of mirage are lateral as well as vertical, arising from unequal density of two contiguous vertical bodies of air. Thus on Lake Geneva a boat has been seen double, the two images some distance apart.

Persons have been duplicated in the same way. Any one on a hot day by placing his eye near to a heated wall may see lateral mirages of objects at a distance and nearly on a line with the wall.

Mirages are very frequent on deserts or the large sandy plains which abound in the southwestern states and territories. Many a panting wagon train has pushed on in joyous haste at the sight of a green grove or limpid lake, only to be cruelly disappointed at the fading away of the vision. Is it any wonder that the natives and Indians regard the phenomenon as the work of evil and tantalizing spirits?

Lake Ontario is famous for beautiful and wonderful mirages, during which the opposite shore of the lake is plainly visible from either side.—Pearson's.

His Shrewd Idea.

"Who is that sour looking girl with the heavy underjaw?"

"That is the only daughter of old De Milyuns."

"And who is the dainty bit of sweetness with the blue eyes and golden hair?"

"That's the chaperon."

"What's the explanation?"

"Why, it's old De Milyun's clever idea. He thinks his Jane will be perfectly safe as long as Miss Blossom is around."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

PALMER-ALEXANDER.

Pretty Home Wedding Solemnized

Yesterday Morning.

In the presence of only a few relatives and friends of the parties, Miss Esther M. Alexander, an attractive and popular young lady, was united in marriage to Mr. D. L. Palmer, of Lewes, Delaware, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, at the home of the bride's father, Mr. W. F. Alexander, 812 Princess street. The beautiful ring ceremony of the Presbyterian Church was used.It was a very quiet affair, beautiful in its simplicity. The bride was attired in a tan coat suit with hat and gloves to match. The happy couple entered the parlor, which had been appropriately decorated in pink and white, to the strains of a wedding march skillfully rendered by Miss Lillian Andrews, who played soft and sweetly during the ceremony, "Melody of Love."Immediately after the ceremony
Mr. and Mrs. Palmer drove to the union station, where they took the 9 o'clock northbound train for Lewes, Delaware, their future home, where
Mr. Palmer holds a responsible position as mechanical draftsman. The best wishes of a host of friends go with the happy couple to their Delaware home.

GUESTS OF THE BISHOP.

Annual "Retreat" of Episcopal Rectors

of This Diocese.

Pleasantly domiciled in the Parsley Cottage at Wrightsville Beach are a large number of rectors of the Episcopal parishes of the Diocese of Eastern North Carolina, who are the guests of Bishop Robert Strange at his second annual "Retreat." The rectors met at Beaufort last year and the ten days were pleasantly and profitably spent. It was an experiment at that time but the results from the gathering were such as to convince Bishop Strange and the rectors that it should be made an annual affair. Accordingly Wrightsville Beach was selected as the place for the "Retreat" this year.The visiting rectors began to arrive in the city Monday afternoon and went immediately to the Parsley Cottage. Among those who are here as the guests of Bishop Strange are: Rev.
John B. Gibbs, of Windsor, formerly of Wilmington; Rev. F. N. Skinner, of Beaufort; Rev. C. B. Malone, of Bath;
Rev. William J. Gordon, of Williamston; Rev. B. F. Huske, of Greenville;
Rev. C. F. Smith, of Elizabeth City;
Rev. Dr. R. B. Drane, of Edenton;
Rev. W. R. Noy, of Clinton; and Mr.
N. C. Duncan, who is a candidate for the ministry. Rev. Milton A. Barber, of Raleigh, is a special guest of the Retreat, not being a member of this diocese. Others are expected to arrive today to join the party. The Wilmington rectors spend the days at the Retreat and return to the city in the evening.The ministers began yesterday the observance of the Holy Communion, which will continue daily. Meetings will be held in the chapel on the beach every morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of prayer and the discussion of practical and helpful subjects.
The afternoons are given over by the guests of the Bishop to recreation and pleasure. The visitors will remain at the beach until next Tuesday.

Recorder's Court Yesterday.

In the Recorder's court yesterday
William Wilson and Richard Hand, small colored bootblacks, arrested on Saturday for disorderly conduct, were taxed with the costs. It appeared from the evidence that the negroes make themselves a nuisance around the union station and on several occasions almost snatched the baggage from the hands of passengers alighting from incoming trains in their eagerness to make a nickel or dime. The Recorder warned them to stay away from the station. Chas. Brokenhagen, a white man, was fined $5 and taxed with the costs for drunkenness, and a case against W. H. Bannister, colored, for a similar offense was dismissed, the defendant proving to the satisfaction of the court that he was not drunk but sick on ice cream. A case against T. J. Lewis, charged with indecent ex-posure, was dismissed.Colds that hang on weaken the constitution and develop into consumption. Foley's Honey and Tar cures persistent coughs that refuse to yield to other treatment. Do not experiment with untried remedies as delay may result in your cold settling on your lungs. Robt. R. Bellamy.There are many rich and rare bargains to be had this week, if you do not get them, someone else will, this week at Gaylord's.

the closed season for butter-beans.

Kite didn't fan but twice; he was walked once, and popped out on his other try. Bertie's evidently after a change in his meal ticket judging from his recent performances.

Rube made a noise like Wright

Bros. in the fourth, and Wilson col-that session he pitched good ball.

Time and again the Sailors were

No; Mr. Observer, you're wrong.

Mister Howard wasn't pounded by Wil-

How about doing a little work on the Mill End Sale!

Every one who came bought, not sparingly, but eagerly—enthusiastically—such are the irresistible values worthy merchandise—useless to the manufacturer, 'tis true—but as valuable to you as seasonableness, newness and reliability can make it.

ABLE GOODS UNTIL YOU HAVE ATTENDED THE MILL END SALE!

The fourth annual meeting of the North Carolina Architectural Association will be held in the assembly room of the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, Saturday, June 26, with representative architects here from all parts of the State. The local architects are anticipating a fine meeting and expect to give their guests a good time while they are here.

There will be a large number of exhibits of drawings by members of the association and the programme will include several interesting papers pertaining to the welfare of the profession. The visitors will spend Sunday at the beach and some of them will remain there for some days longer.

SOUTH WILMINGTON PROPERTY

Interesting Civil Action Started in Superior Court Yesterday.

An important and interesting civil action, involving the title to an area of property, on the water front, known as South Wilmington and containing several hundred acres, was started in the Superior Court yesterday. The case is entitled Nellie B. Slater and husband, Henry F. Slater, of New York, against Thomas Bacon, Jr., and wife, Anna M. Bacon, and L. Clayton Grant, Esq., the latter a prominent young member of the Wilmington bar. The action is brought by Colonel A. M. Waddell in behalf of the plaintiffs and he stated yesterday afternoon that the complaint would probably be filed Thursday. The property, which was being developed by Mr. Bacon, is valued at between $4,000 and $5,000. According to information obtainable in advance of the filing of the complaint the property was deeded to Mr. Grant by Mr. Bacon and wife and was later deeded back to Mr. Bacon and wife. It is understood that the action started yesterday is for the purpose of having the deeds cancelled, the plaintiffs alleging that neither of the defendants had authority to convey the property, also asking for damages and an injunction restraining Mr. Bacon from disposing of any of the property until the matter is finally adjudicated.

The suit will, of course, tie up the land for some time and will necessarily stop the development of the property until the matter is finally adjusted.

IMPORTANT SERVICE.

At First Baptist Church This Evening Week of Prayer.

At the regular weekly prayer service at the First Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock, the members of the church will arrange for a week of prayer to be held in the near future, during which there will be services each evening. Mr. G. E. Leftwich, superintendent of the Sunday School, will lead the prayer service, and it is important that the members attend. Following the series of services, the church will extend a call for a pastor to succeed Dr. Fred Hale, who recently went to Texas.

BANQUET TONIGHT.

Members of Royal Arcanum Arrange for Pleasant Event.

What promises to be one of the most enjoyable fraternal social events of the season will be the banquet of the Carolina Council, Royal Arcanum, in Masonic Temple tonight, beginning at 9 o'clock. A number of prominent members of the council have accepted invitations to respond to toasts. The committee in charge is composed of Messrs. Percy L. Smith, chairman, R. G. Rankin, Jr., and Fred W. Bonitz, Esq.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary Carroll.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Carroll, whose death occurred Monday morning, was held from the late residence at Lake Waccamaw at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning, conducted by Rev. Edward Wooten, of this city. The body was brought to this city on the 1:25 P. M. train from the South and taken to Oakdale cemetery, where the interment took place. There were many pretty floral designs. The pallbearers were Mayor Walter G. MacRae, Col. John D. Taylor, Capt. John F. Divine, Messrs. Julius Davis, Sr., J. D. Nutt and J. H. Boatwright.

Acknowledges Receipt of Notice.

The State Corporation Commission has advised the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce of the receipt of its notice to the effect that the members desired to be heard with reference to raising the rates on residence telephones in this city, the hearing of which has been set for Friday. The Commission has forwarded the Chamber of Commerce a copy of the petition filed by the Bell people. A strong delegation from the Chamber will likely go to Raleigh tomorrow to protest against an increase in the rates.

Trouble Makers Ousted.

When a sufferer from stomach trouble takes Dr. King's New Life Pills he's mighty glad to see his Dyspepsia and Indigestion fly, but more he's tickled over his new, fine appetite, strong nervous healthy vigor, all because stomach, liver and kidneys now work right 25c. at R. R. Bellamy's.

ENJOYABLE RIVER TRIP

Chief Justice Walter Clark and Major E. J. Hale Guests of Capt. Earl I. Brown on Regular Inspection Trip.

Captain Earl I. Brown, United States Engineer in charge of this district, made his regular inspection of the Cape Fear river from Fayetteville to Wilmington yesterday and had as his guests Mrs. Brown, Chief Justice Walter Clark, of the North Carolina Supreme Court, and Major E. J. Hale, editor of the Fayetteville Observer and one of the most prominent and public spirited men of the upper Cape Fear section.

The trip was made on the government steamer Mercur, the boat leaving Fayetteville yesterday morning at 8:45 and arriving here at 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The trip was made in nine hours and 45 minutes, which is considered splendid time. Though the trip was hurried, the guests had a chance to view and make a thorough inspection of the river. It is thought that the project to make the river an average depth of eight feet from Fayetteville to Wilmington will be given a decided impetus, although the trip did not have any special significance. The distinguished guests expressed themselves as having had a splendid time and did not appear to be weary from their journey.

Justice Clark and Major Hale left on the 7 o'clock train last evening for their homes, Major Hale going via Wilson. Owing to pressing business at home the visitors could not remain in the city over night.

ON HAPPY MISSION

Mr. Norwood Orrell Goes to South Carolina to Claim Bride.

Mr. Norwood Orrell left on the Coast Line train yesterday afternoon for Marion, S. C., where tonight at 8 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church of that place he will wed Miss Jennie Eva Crane, one of Marion's most attractive and popular daughters, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Kilgo, pastor of the Methodist Church there. Mr. Orrell was accompanied by his brother, Mr. Louis Orrell, who will act as best man. Miss Thurber Gore, of this city, will be maid of honor. She and a number of other Wilmington young ladies left a few days ago for Marion. Mr. Clint Smith, of Rocky Mount, will be one of the gentlemen attendants.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal couple will board a train for Wilmington, arriving here tonight. The bride-elect and the prospective bridegroom has a host of friends in Wilmington and this section of the State who will be interested in the announcement of their marriage.

TROUBLE WITH THE LIGHTS

Vessel Frequently Compelled to Anchor at the Bar.

On account of the bad condition of the two white range lights on Smith's Island, vessels, which could otherwise proceed to Wilmington are compelled to anchor off the bar and await daylight according to marine men at the port. The government has employed men to attend to these lights, but they are no way responsible when they get old and in bad condition. The important lights go out very frequently and vessels are subject to long delays.

At the last meeting of the Wilmington Harbor, Masters, Mates and Pilots, action was taken with regard to the new lights and a request made of the government to place them as early as possible. The Board of Navigation authorized them some time ago and there has been an unusual delay in securing them.

Outing at Carolina Beach.

The annual outing of Brooklyn Baptist Sunday School was held at Carolina Beach yesterday. The pupils, numbering between 200 and 300, went down on the 9 o'clock trip of the steamer Wilmington with the exception of a few who waited until the afternoon boat. The party returned at 7:30 o'clock after having spent a most pleasant day. The Tidewater Power Company had six cars waiting at corner of Dock and Front streets to convey the pupils to their homes, three cars going to Brooklyn, one to South Wilmington and two around the belt line.

Picnic at Lake Waccamaw.

Editor T. L. Gantt, of the Whiteville News-Reporter, is arranging for a big basket picnic at Lake Waccamaw, Saturday, July 3rd, and it is hoped to have Governor Kitchin and Congressman H. L. Godwin present and deliver addresses. The primary purpose of the event is to get the correspondents of the wide-awake Whiteville paper to get together, but a cordial invitation is given to all to attend. Editor Gantt has arranged to give a number of prizes to his correspondents on that day.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE CO.

(Incorporated by the State of New York. Stock Company)

JOHN R. HEGEMAN, PRESIDENT.

GREAT REDUCTION OF EXPENSES--INCREASED BENEFITS--LOWER RATES

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

In January, 1907, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company largely increased the benefits in its Industrial policies by reason of a heavy reduction in expenses and improvement in mortality experience.

During the past three years the Company has steadily reduced its expenses, so that it is enabled to make a further increase in benefits. Industrial insurance policies have a unit of weekly premium—three cents, five cents and multiples thereof—and the amount of insurance varies with the age.

All Industrial Life policies (premiums cease after age 74), Endowment policies at age 80 and adult Twenty-year Endowment.

Policies issued since Jan. 1, 1907, will be increased in benefits about ten per cent.

according to a new table of benefits adopted for policies issued after July 1, 1909. In other words, not only does the Company issue a new table for policies hereafter issued, but it makes the increase retroactive since the present form of Limited Payment and Endowment at age 80 policies were adopted.

Upon the OLD INDUSTRIAL POLICIES the Company is paying out TWO AND A HALF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN BONUSES THIS YEAR, bringing up the total Bonuses and Concessions upon Industrial policies to EIGHTEEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN SIXTEEN YEARS. This is OVER AND ABOVE ANY AND ALL OBLIGATIONS expressed or implied in the policies.

The Metropolitan in its Industrial Department has the lowest Ratio of Expense of all the Industrial Insurance Companies in the world which pay immediate benefits. In FIVE YEARS its

Ratio of Expense to Premium Income has been Reduced

8 per cent., representing an Annual Saving of Three and a Half Millions of Dollars

The new Convertible policy issued by the Company is a novel form of insurance which becomes fully paid up life insurance in a few years and is then automatically converted into endowment insurance, the maturity of which is periodically shortened as payment of premiums continues.

The Company is abreast of the public demand for combination of term insurance, and annuities, and serves the public better than any other agency.

INDUSTRIAL POLICIES IN FORCE: NEARLY 9,500,000 INSURING NEARLY $1,500,000,000.

ORDINARY DEPARTMENT.

The Company has reduced expenses six per cent. in this Department in the last FIVE years—representing an ANNUAL SAVING OF OVER A MILLION AND A QUARTER OF DOLLARS IN THE ORDINARY DEPARTMENT.

The Company issues policies in the Ordinary Department in amounts from $500 to $1,000,000 upon all approved plans at the lowest rates. IN 1908 IT WROTE MORE PAID-FOR BUSINESS IN ITS ORDINARY OLD LINE INSURANCE (exclusive of Industrial), in the United States and Canada, THAN ANY OTHER COMPANY.

All of its policies in the Ordinary as well as the Industrial Department are written on the non-participating plan. The Metropolitan pays its dividends at the start—that is to say, it cuts down the premiums. It believes the plain, common-sense men who make up the bulk of policy-holders look for a plain business contract. By plain business contracts we mean those which tell their whole story upon their face; which leave nothing to the imagination, borrow nothing from hope, require definite conditions and make definite promises in dollars and cents.

In both Departments combined the Company has, in each of the past fifteen years, written more paid-for insurance than any other Company in the World.

The Company upon its Total Business Has in the Last Ten Years Reduced its Ratio of Expenses to Premium Income Fifteen Per cent.

INVOLVING COURT CLERK

too, by Mack Durham that he had driven Major Grant to the Kelly woman's house and to the houses of Frankie Raymond and others. The wife of William Jones swore that Major Grant gave her husband $100 to leave town and promised to see that she was provided for while he was away and failed to do this, ordering her out of his place with the declaration that she was "no longer in the mess" when she went to see him about keeping his promise to her husband.

Major Grant is attending the trial and has retained J. N. Holding as special counsel.

Major Grant in a lengthy statement denied having any improper relations with women and characterized the testimony against him by negroes as a fabrication inspired by political or personal enemies. He explained his ownership of the house in which the Kelly women lived by saying the late S. G. Ryan had told him he had property to sell for parties in Baltimore at its tax valuation, also a purchaser who would pay for it in installments as a fine investment. He says the deal was made without his knowing the character of the woman. He took a mortgage but finding the bad character of the woman was ashamed to have it recorded, securing the sale to another party as soon as he could, to rid himself of the ownership of the disreputable place. As to going on the woman's bond later he said he did this with money he had paid on indebtedness and purely to save the transaction he had as to the house. The money the hackman claims was paid him to leave town, Grant says was given for attorneys fees in the present case against the negro. Counsel for the negro argued that Major Grant and not the negro was guilty of illegal relations with the woman, and asked the court to dismiss their client. The court's action in sentencing the negro to the roads came as a strong link in Major Grant's defense. He was in court solely as a witness whose character it was sought to impeach.

The Norfolk & Southern had a hearing today before the Corporation Commission on the petition of the company for its North Carolina lines to be exempted from the act of the recent Legislature requiring electric headlights on all locomotives in main line service. Similar petitions from the Seaboard Air Line and the Atlantic Coast Line have heretofore been heard.

Appearing for the N. & S. were General Superintendent R. P. Foster, W. W. Terry, assistant general counsel, and a number of engineers in the service of the road, the latter being witnesses who testified that electric headlights were not needed on the N. & S.

FIREMEN TELL OF STRIKE

than a 'possum when it comes to going to sleep."

Fireman J. C. H. Wink swore that the Georgia Railroad now employs about 87 per cent. negroes on passenger runs.

E. Ball, one of the Brotherhood's vice presidents, was the first witness called. He began a recital of the fireman's side of the case. Hardly had he begun when Major Cummings for the road objected on the ground that the witness was arguing and repeating hearsay testimony as to the requirements of firemen on other roads.

Quickly Ball reached into a big suit case and began to pull out armful after armful of books.

"These are the rule books of every big railroad in North America. They show that the big roads do require intelligent, capable men as firemen."

Ball was permitted to conclude his statement, when Cummings asked that it be stricken from the records. The board decided to let it stand for what it was worth. As this argument was ended, Ball said: "Gentlemen, there were three reasons why we called off the strike. The first was that Commissioner Neill assured us that the arbitrators would throw down the bars and permit us to introduce any testimony or any statements we desired. The second was that he agreed, in case the two arbitrators were unable to select a third, he would submit to us six names from which the third would be chosen and we could object to any man on that list. The third reason was that we knew Federal interference would be a great loss to the railroad and the public. If we thought there would be any attempt to limit the scope of the inquiry we would never have called the strike off."

As Ball concluded he offered a petition of 300 names from Lithonia, asking the arbitrators not to put the negro in the cab. The board declined to receive the petition.

The gist of Ball's testimony, under Attorney Arnold's questions, was that the Georgia Railroad hired negroes because they were cheaper; did not make them pass examinations and threatened to put them in still more responsible positions.

Excursion From Lumberton Today.

An excursion over the Seaboard, under the auspices of the Baptist Sunday School of Lumberton, will reach Wilmington today. Other Sunday schools of that city have been invited to join the Baptist on the trip to this city.

Mr. Frank Gough, former excursion agent for the Seaboard, will have charge of the train, which will leave Lumberton at 7 A. M.

Disappeared From His Home at Fayetteville—Fireworks Accident.

Fayetteville, N. C., June 22.—G. Fletcher Sedberry, a young man of prominent family of this city disappeared while at Linden, near here about a week ago and has not been heard of since. He accepted a position some weeks ago in a saw mill at Linden, whence he disappeared and though a diligent search has been made, no trace of him has been found so far.

During the fireworks display connected with the celebration of the Liberty Point Declaration of Independence last night an explosive, supposed to be a giant cannon cracker thrown by some intoxicated man exploded in the midst of a crowd injuring several persons more or less severely. Robert Mills, a carpenter had his legs severely torn while Master Rozier McRae was also badly burned on the leg, as was Master Samuel Harper.

BANK ROBBERS SECURE $3,500.

A Disappointed Exchange With Them But They Escaped.

Locke, N. Y., June 22.—In a fight to capture burglars who blew the safe and secured $3,500 in money of the Citizens' Bank here early today, State Senator C. J. Hewitt, president of the bank, exchanged about a dozen shots with the robbers but they escaped, none of the shots taking effect. The deputy sheriff and posse are now scouring the country in search of the fugitives. The first explosion in the bank aroused Mr. Hewitt who armed himself and fired continuously, the robbers returning the fire while one of their number was rifling the safe.

Wife Also Fatally Shot—Negro Being Pursued by Posse.

Dublin, Ga., June 22.—George Howell, a planter, was killed and his wife fatally injured by Robert Jenkins, a negro, this morning, near Scott, in Johnson county. A young son of Howell was also fired upon but was unhurt. The negro escaped.

Howell demanded settlement of a debt by the negro, who pulled his pistol and fired upon the Howells. Jenkins is being pursued by a large posse of officers and Howell's neighbors with track hounds.

—Newbern, June 21.—The congregation of Centenary Methodist Episcopal church was greatly startled Sunday morning when the pastor, Rev. R. C. Beaman, D. D., announced to them that his wife had disappeared and could not be located. The pastor's words were pronounced in a fine oratory as has ever been heard in that pulpit and no word of censure or bitter feeling escaped his lips. It was a very pathetic scene. On Saturday, June 5, Dr. Beaman went to Durham to attend Trinity College commencement; three or four days later Mrs. Beaman left Newbern, it is said, ostensibly for Rocky Mount, but nothing has been heard from her since. Notes found in different places indicate that she has left with a man named Grant, who has been in town for a few days. The matter was known to but very few prior to the Sunday morning services. The Methodist church is the largest and most influential in the city, and one of the largest in the State and Dr. Beaman's charge over it has been marked with a period of prosperity.

—Mount Olive Tribune: The shipping of Irish potatoes last week from this point has been quite large, and quantities continue to go forward to the Northern markets every day. On some truck farms the yield is up to the usual standard, but in the majority of cases it is not so good. The truckers, however, are well satisfied with the season's business so far, prices having ranged from $2.50 to $3.00 per barrel—in fact, the most of them have made good money on their potato crop. Mr. Ben W. Southernland is our most extensive potato grower, having had 150 acres in potatoes alone this season—and in the language of the street, "he certainly struck it rich."

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Wadesboro, June 21.—John Davis, who was arrested at Polkton, charged with an assault with intent to commit rape on Katie Jones, was given a preliminary hearing this afternoon and held for the next term of the Superior court. Both parties are negroes. The Jones woman bears a good reputation. There is considerable feeling against Davis in the neighborhood.

—Cheraw, S. C., June 21.—A. H. Page and son, of this place, today transferred to the Seaboard Air Line Railway the controlling interest in the Chesterfield & Lancaster Railroad Company. The purchase price of the stock was not announced. The Chesterfield & Lancaster Railroad, which was built in 1901, is about 40 miles in length, running from Cheraw to Crowberg, about thirty miles from Charlotte, N. S.

—Wadesboro, June 21.—Mr. Robert Singleton, superintendent of the Southern mills of the Singleton Silk Mill Company, which operates mills in Wadesboro, and also in Augusta, Ga., is in Wadesboro and is planning to enlarge the two silk mills here. These mills employ about 200 hands at present with a payroll of about $4,000 a month. Mr. Singleton says that the only impediment now is the scarcity of labor and that if he can secure the additional workers that the capacity of the Wadesboro mills will be largely increased.

—Raleigh News and Observer: The second annual convention of North Carolina postoffice clerks closed this afternoon after electing officers and putting the association on permanent basis by adopting constitution and by-laws. G. W. Erwin, Charlotte, was elected president; W. L. Ray, Asheville, vice president; E. B. Proctor, Salisbury, secretary and treasurer. E. B. Proctor was elected delegate to National Association of Postoffice Clerks which meets in August in Cincinnati, with instructions to work for uniform vacation with other employees of government.

—Spencer, June 21.—Scott Winders, an orphan boy, aged 13 years, at the home of D. M. Pennington, a prominent farmer, living near Spencer, is tonight in a desperate condition with what is said to be hydrophobia. The boy was seized with fits and, when under the influence of the spasm, attempts to bite and scratch his friends. So violent is he that he tears up his bed clothes and it is with difficulty that he is held by force. The lad was bit by a dog six months ago and no attention was given the matter until the disease developed this week. Little hope is entertained for his recovery. The case is attracting much attention from physicians.

—Durham, June 21.—Judge Biggs heard a motion of the State in the Reuben Barbee case today and granted the request for continuance. Barbee will be tried for the murder of Engineer Holt at the August term. Nothing new developed. Later messages from Ohio tell no more of the negro. Barbee's attorneys asked for immediate trial and the State balked. The general opinion is that the Ohio negro will tend to destroy rather than strengthen Barbee's claim of an alibi and for that reason the trial and acquittal, making impossible a second jeopardy, was greatly sought by Barbee. It was the first case wherein an alibi from afar was seized upon.

—Charlotte Observer: While the cry of unfavorable crop conditions just about this season of the year is not in any wise infrequent, it remains a fact that can be fully substantiated that the farming prospects of Mecklenburg county just now are far from affording any marked comfort to the planters. And while this is beyond question a truth, it is said that the situation in this immediate community is very much more encouraging than at other points, particularly in South Carolina. Observed as a whole, crops in this county are said to be off by at least 40 per cent.; or in any other words, there is only a 60 per cent. crop of cotton and corn.

—Lumberton Robesonian: Mr. C. J. Hunter, of Florence, S. C., who has been coming to Lumberton for several years taking orders for enlarging pictures for the Fleming Portrait Co., of Chicago, was asked Friday to cough up the license tax required by the State for such agents, but Mr. Hunter said nay and employed Mr. S. McIntyre, who quickly showed that there was nothing doing, that the law could not touch him for tax. There is a State law requiring a tax for such agents, but Mr. McIntyre showed that the Supreme Court of the United States, in a case that went up from Greensboro, has decided that the law conflicts with the inter-State commerce law and is no good. Mr. Hunter was out his lawyer's fees but did not have to pay the tax.

—Wenworth, June 21.—Ex-State Senator Reuben D. Reid, of this town, died this morning at 7 o'clock at the residence of his brother, Thomas S. Reid, in Reidsville, as the result of an attack of apoplexy, which occurred Friday morning while he was sitting in his law office at Reidsville. Ex-Senator Reid was a man of unusual strength of character and ability. Through his services in the Legislature, where he took a prominent and aggressive part, he became known throughout the State. He made a strong fight for the Democratic Congressional nomination in the Fifth district last year, but was one of the three defeated candidates. He was a great lawyer. Inheriting from his illustrious father, David S. Reid, and from his eminent grandfather, the elder Judge Thomas Settle, those magnificent traits of character and broad intellectual equipment that go to make up men of splendid brain.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 22.—The cotton market developed much greater activity and decided strength today with the close very steady at a net advance of 16 to 21 points. All new crop months made new high records for the season.

The opening was steady at an advance of 1 to 5 points on the cables and after some early irregularity during which the feature was continued realizing through commission houses just below 11 cents for the new crop positions and the continued readiness with which these offerings were absorbed, the market suddenly became very firm following rumors that the condition report of the National Gunners Association would be very bullish, probably under 78. Trading became more active as the market sold through the 11 cent mark and in addition to the continued support of leading bulls, there was heavy covering and it looked as if sold out bulls were re-entering the market from every direction.

At any rate business was very active and before the advance was checked December contracts had sold at 11 to 21 or 24 points net higher and 11 points above the previous high record for the season. Realizing was heavy around these figures and later fluctuations were somewhat irregular, but offerings were very well absorbed, and last prices were within 2 or 3 points of the top. Aside from rumors regarding the crop report mentioned above, which were not officially confirmed, there seemed to be no fresh bull news in the market, and while further precipitation was reported in eastern and central sections of the belt, the rainfall was not as heavy as shown yesterday. Southern spot market officially reported were unchanged to 1-8c higher.

Receipts at the ports today 3,024 bales against 6,165 last week and 8,447 last year. For the week 35,000 bales against 33,540 last week and 43,423 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 3,636 bales against 772 last year and at Houston 333, against 2,895 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet 15 points higher, middling uplands 11.60; middling gulf 11.85; sales none.

Futures opened steady and closed very steady.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 22.—The dry goods market is generally strong. There are some places in which prices have not responded to the recent rises in raw materials but they are gradually growing firmer. Buying is larger for future delivery and the movement of goods is large. Current trading in the jobbing business is light for immediate delivery but large orders are being placed in some quarters for cloths, dress goods, hosiery, etc.

MARKET GOSSIP.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 22.—A recovery in prices today was to be expected in view of the baselessness of the rumors which circulated in the stock market yesterday to account of the selling. As the rumor of E. H. Harriman's sudden and fatal illness was quickly disproved the conclusion followed that it was put in circulation with the purpose of forcing selling of stocks in the interest of the bear position. There was renewed buying from the large commission houses from which selling yesterday gave the impression of important liquidation. Supporting orders at influential points in the market made themselves felt but were withdrawn later in the day. The buying of United States Steel, the Harriman Pacifics and Reading proved particularly imposing and had a strong influence on sentiment towards the whole market. The greater part of the day's business was completed in the first hour and the latter part of the session at the higher level of prices was somewhat stagnant. The tone of the foreign markets was somewhat heavy and dull and this deprived the recovery here of encouragement. The general settlement to be effected in the London stock market tomorrow partly accounted for the halting tendency.

Copper had another decline in London and prices of that metal were marked down at the New York exchange. Money rates were perceptibly easier, both in call and time, in spite of the active demand for foreign exchange. The closing tone was unsettled again.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $4,120,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today 710,200 shares.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 22.—Money on call easy 1 1-2 to 2 per cent, ruling rate 1 3-4, closing bid 1 3-4, offered at 2. Time loans dull and inclined to weaken; sixty days 2 1-2 per cent, and 90 days 2 3-4; six months 3 1-4 to 4 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 3 1-2 to 4 per cent. Sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8645 to 4.8650 for sixty day bills and at 4.8810 for demand, commercial bills 4.85 3-4; bar silver 52 5-8; Mexican dollars 44.

Yale Defeats Princeton.

New York, June 22.—Yale defeated Princeton today at American League Park 5 to 3 and thus Yale won the deciding game of the series. The Connecticut collegians were better at the bat, in the field, and in the box than their rivals from New Jersey. Handicapped by poor support, White pitched a fine game for Princeton. VanVleck did the twirling for Yale for seven innings giving way to Merritt in the 8th. All Princeton's hits were made off VanVleck.

PHARMACISTS TO MEET

Class of 69 Examined for License. One Negro Woman.

Greensboro, N. C., June 22.—The State Board of Examiners of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association met here yesterday afternoon. There are 69 applicants, the largest class on record in this State. Ten of the number are colored, one being a woman, who is the first negro woman to stand before the board. The examinations were completed last night, but the board has not yet finished grading the papers. The names of the successful applicants will be announced tomorrow.

The Pharmaceutical Association will convene at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and about 200 druggists will be here to attend the sessions. The address of welcome will be delivered by G. S. Bradshaw, Esq., and the response will be by Mr. George Y. Watson, of Southport. The meeting will continue through Friday.

Battling Nelson knocked out Jack Clifford last night at Oklahoma City, in the fifth round of what was to have been a 20-round bout.

"English is a funny language after all, isn't it?"

"Why so?"

"I heard a man, talking of a political candidate the other day, say, 'If he only takes this stand when he runs he will have a walkover.'"

A Thrilling Rescue.

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheney, Wash. was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $35 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." For Lung Trouble, Bronchitis, Coughs and Colds, Asthma, Croup and Whooping Cough its supreme. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

CHINK TELLS IT ALL

the middle of the floor. The trunk Leon was calmly emptying preparatory to placing the body therein. The rope with which the body was bound was lying on the floor at the time according to Chung Sin. Once again he went downstairs said Chung Sin, where he remained until Leon called him.

When he entered the room the body was not visible, having been bound with the rope and placed in the trunk.

At this point of the story, the Chinaman was asked savagely if he had not assisted Leon in putting the body in the trunk. Chung Sin started perceptibly but said that he had had no hand in it.

"I didn't see her no more," said Chung Sin, "and when I asked Leon how she died he said she had bitten her tongue and bled to death."

Leon told him, Chun Sin, added, that he was going to send the trunk to Jersey City, thence to Europe. As a matter of fact, it lay untouched in the stuffy little room until Lung Leung, proprietor of the restaurant below, noticed the odor about the building and summoned the police.

Until Chung Sin's complete account is made public it will not be explained why he saw the dead girl and the preparations for the removal of the body with such apparent unconcern at the time.

The confession serves but to clinch the already prevalent belief that Leon Ling killed the 20-year-old girl who became initiated into the ways of the Chinese life through her mother, who now has been taken to a sanitarium, crazed with grief. It does not, however, so far as can be learned, throw any light as to where the murderer is at present or the route which he took in his flight from the city.

ROOTS, HERBS AND BARKS.

You can no doubt recall the collection of roots, herbs and barks your grandmother made every fall for the family medicine chest.

It is interesting to note that the most successful remedy for female ills had its origin more than 30 years ago in one of these home medicine chests, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made today in immense quantities from those same roots and herbs with extreme accuracy, care and cleanliness.

ONE REASON

Some people never know how they stand and never catch an incentive to save money, is that they place what they receive in purses, pockets or bureau drawers, pay their bills at random—and sometimes pay the same bill twice because the receipt is lost.

Thrifty people recognize the fact that the above is a bad plan, hence you will note that the careful business man and the thrifty young man—or woman either—uses a check book in settling accounts.

Open a checking account here. We will furnish all the material free except the money, and you can start the account from $5.00 up. Statements Furnished Monthly.
